Perth Insurance Broker Named Perth's Influential 100 Businesses

Perth's own Elliott Insurance Brokers has been named as one of Perth's 100 most influential businesses at a gala awards night last month.

John Elliott, who owns and operates Elliott Insurance Brokers from his Nedlands office said the win was great recognition.

"I started this business just seven years ago and we've since grown to become a successful enterprise so it was a real thrill to be among the 100 winners," said Mr Elliott.

"Business is booming in the insurance sector as the average consumer starts to notice the service and prices of brokers beating the big boys. And for those who are agile enough to keep up with the technology, there is tremendous opportunity. "

"We employ 30 staff across 3 offices and while our offices are here in Perth, we provide insurance across Australia."

"What started with just an idea is now earning great recognition and is a forced to be reckoned with in the insurance industry."

The NifNex Influential 100 Awards was created to honour the small business sector, which is often overlooked by other big business awards.

Organiser and CEO of Nifnexus, Zeeshan Pasha said the awards honour the most well connected and dynamic individuals within Perth's small business community.

"The awards are all about recognising those who are doing something proactive in their local business communities, who are helping and giving back," said Mr Pasha.

The Bollywood-themed gala awards night was staged at Platinum Function Centre in Westminster and attended by more than 300 people including Hon. Alyssa Hayden MLC; and the Consulate General of India Mr. Subbarayudu.

Elliott Insurance Brokers offers insurance health checks for all business owners throughout Australia.
